

Hospital Associated Infections Are On The Rise!

Hospitals' first line of defense against infection is a comprehensive hand hygiene program – an approach endorsed by the CDC. The problem is even the most stringent hand hygiene program, will not prevent the spread of infections if handheld devices, especially cell phones, are left untreated.

More than 800+ Hospitals and Hospital Groups, Surgery Centers, Physician's Offices, Dental Practices, and EMS providers rely on AUVS to complete their Hand Hygiene program by disinfecting cell phones, tablets, IDs, remote controls, and personal items.
